THEATRE COMPANY

AUGUST 20TH, 2013
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

PULSE THEATRE COMPANY ENTERTAINS EAST HANOVER STREET ON LABOR DAY WEEKEND WITH THE ALIENS BY ANNIE BAKER

Annie Baker's The Aliens is a play about two angry young men who, despite their own difficult lives, decide to teach a lonely high school student everything they know. They help him break through his nervous shell and give him the courage to be his own man and even speak to girls. A play about struggle, drugs, love, and friendship, this production found its way into Downtown Trenton, produced by Pulse Theatre Company. The Aliens is to be performed on Labor Day Weekend at the Gandhi Garden, a new venue constructed out of a vacant lot on East Hanover Street by S.A.G.E. Coalition. True to its mission, Pulse aims to bring a beautiful work of theatre to an audience that appreciates passionate and intimate art. Admission to this event is free.

WARNING: THIS PRODUCTION USES EXPLICIT LANGUAGE AND IS NOT FOR SMALL CHILDREN.

ABOUT PULSE THEATRE COMPANY:

VISION STATEMENT

Pulse Theatre Company envisions a wider and wilder appreciation for the art that drives us, relieves us, and inspires us in ways we cannot explain; the art that enables us to lose ourselves and find ourselves at the same time; the art that brings us together as a community.

MISSION STATEMENT

At Pulse Theatre Company, we believe the beauty in theatre is a reflection of the beauty in mankind. Through wild, intimate, and breath-taking shows, Pulse aims to spread a deeper appreciation and community for the arts.

ABOUT S.A.G.E. COALITION:

The S.A.G.E. Coalition is a 501(c)(3) non-profit founded in Trenton NJ dedicated to initiating, planning, and establishing inner-city beautification projects. Formed in 2012, SAGE Coalition Inc. has its roots in legendary Trenton arts groups such as the Vicious Stylez Crew, SAGE Collective, and the Trenton Atelier. Since then it has grown into a diverse group of visual artists, engineers, fabricators, musicians and teachers dedicated to the rebirth of Trenton and all other struggling urban zones. From molding wax to steel, creating everything from murals to 3d models and building bikes or beats, SAGE Coalition is a potent mix of talented artists who are invested in urban renewal. Our goal is to remind those in economically depressed neighborhoods that unity and pride can thrive through creative problem solving and civic engagement.
